3 Section 5
   Insert:
   carriage service provider has the same meaning as in the Telecommunications Act 1997.

4 Section 8
   Omit “This Act relies on”, substitute “(1) Subject to subsections (2) and (3), this Act relies on”.

5 At the end of section 8
   Add:
   (2) Section 114A has effect only if one or more of the following paragraphs applies:
       (a) the relevant service is provided in the course of, or intended for, trade or commerce to which paragraph 51(i) of the Constitution applies;
       (b) the conduct constituting the contravention involves the use of postal, telegraphic, telephonic or other like services (within the meaning of paragraph 51(v) of the Constitution);
(3) Section 114B has effect only if one or more of the following paragraphs applies:

(a) the relevant service is advertised in the course of trade or commerce to which paragraph 51(i) of the Constitution applies;

(b) the relevant service is advertised using a postal, telegraphic, telephonic or other like service (within the meaning of paragraph 51(v) of the Constitution);

(c) the person engaging in the conduct is an alien (within the meaning of paragraph 51(xix) of the Constitution);

(d) the relevant service is advertised to a student who is an alien (within the meaning of paragraph 51(xix) of the Constitution);

(e) the person engaging in the conduct is a corporation (to which paragraph 51(xx) of the Constitution applies);

(f) the conduct constituting the contravention occurs in a Territory or a Commonwealth place;

(g) the conduct constituting the contravention occurs to any extent outside Australia.

6 Section 63 (heading)

   Repeal the heading, substitute:
63 Requiring certain persons to give information etc.

7 After subsection 63(1)

Insert:

(1A) This section also applies to a person if TEQSA believes on reasonable grounds that the person is capable of giving or producing information, or a document or a thing, relating to a matter that constitutes or may constitute a contravention of section 114A or 114B.

8 At the end of section 63

Add:

(5) Subsection (1A) does not apply to:

(a) a lawyer who is acting, or has acted, for a person who is suspected of contravening, or has contravened, section 114A or 114B; or

(b) national security information (within the meaning of the National Security Information (Criminal and Civil Proceedings) Act 2004); or

(c) documents or things relating to national security (within the meaning of the National Security Information (Criminal and Civil Proceedings) Act 2004).

9 At the end of Subdivision A of Division 2 of Part 7

Add:

114A Prohibition on the provision etc. of academic cheating services

Offence

(1) A person commits an offence if the person provides, offers to provide or arranges the provision of a service of a kind mentioned in subsection (3) to a student enrolled in a course of study.

Penalty: 2 years imprisonment or 500 penalty units, or both.
(2) A person contravenes this subsection if the person provides, offers to provide or arranges the provision of a service of a kind mentioned in subsection (3) to a student enrolled in a course of study.

Civil penalty: 1,000 penalty units.

Relevant services

(3) The services are as follows:

(a) completing an assignment or any other work that the student is required to complete as part of the course of study;

(b) providing any part of a piece of work or assignment that the student is required to complete as part of the course of study;

(c) providing the answers for an examination that the student is required to complete as part of the course of study;

(d) sitting an examination that the student is required to complete as part of the course of study.

Exception

(4) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply if the person who made the requirement referred to in subsection (3) authorised the provision of the service to the student.

Note: A defendant bears an evidential burden in relation to the matters in this subsection (see section 124A of this Act and subsection 13.3(3) of the Criminal Code).

Example: A university permits a student with a disability to use a scribe in an examination.

114B Prohibition on advertising academic cheating services

Offence

(1) A person commits an offence if the person advertises, or publishes or broadcasts an advertisement of, a service of a kind mentioned in subsection (3).
Penalty: 2 years imprisonment or 500 penalty units, or both.

Civil penalty

(2) A person contravenes this subsection if the person advertises, or publishes or broadcasts an advertisement of, a service of a kind mentioned in subsection (3).

Civil penalty: 1,000 penalty units.

Relevant services

(3) The services are as follows:

(a) completing an assignment or any other work that a student is required to complete as part of a course of study;
(b) providing, or arranging the provision of, any part of a piece of work or assignment that a student is required to complete as part of a course of study;
(c) providing, or arranging the provision of, the answers for an examination that a student is required to complete as part of a course of study;
(d) sitting an examination that a student is required to complete as part of a course of study.

Exception

(4) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply if the person did not know, and could not reasonably have been expected to know, that the advertisement was for a service of a kind mentioned in subsection (3).

Note: A defendant bears an evidential burden in relation to the matters in this subsection (see section 124A of this Act and subsection 13.3(3) of the Criminal Code).

10 After subsection 115(4)

Insert:
Determining pecuniary penalty for breach of academic cheating provisions

(4A) The pecuniary penalty for a contravention of subsection 114A(2) or 114B(2) must not be more than:
(a) if the person is a body corporate—5 times the pecuniary penalty specified in the civil penalty provision; and
(b) otherwise—the pecuniary penalty specified in the civil penalty provision.

11 At the end of Division 2 of Part 7

Add:

124A Exceptions etc. to civil penalty provisions—burden of proof

If, in proceedings for a civil penalty order against a person for a contravention of a civil penalty provision, the person wishes to rely on any exception, exemption, excuse, qualification or justification provided by the law creating the civil penalty provision, then the person bears an evidential burden in relation to that matter.

24 Subsection 127(2)
   Omit “the entity”, substitute “the person”.

25 After section 127
   Insert:

127A Injunctions relating to online locations that facilitate provision of, or advertising of, academic cheating services

Application for an injunction

(1) TEQSA may apply, on behalf of the Commonwealth, to the Federal Court to grant an injunction that requires a carriage service provider to take such steps as the Court considers reasonable to disable access to an online location that contravenes, or facilitates a contravention of, section 114A or 114B.

(2) The application under subsection (1) may also request that the injunction require an online search engine provider (other than a provider that is covered by a declaration under subsection (11)) to take such steps as the Court considers reasonable so as not to provide a search result that refers users to the online location.

Granting the injunction

(3) The Court may grant the injunction in the terms, and subject to the conditions, that the Court considers appropriate.

Note 1: For the matters that the Court may take into account when determining whether to grant the injunction, see subsection (7).

Note 2: The terms and conditions of the injunction that apply to a carriage service provider under subsection (1) may be different from those that apply to an online search engine provider under subsection (2).

(4) Without limiting subsection (3), the injunction may:

(a) require the carriage service provider to take reasonable steps to do either or both of the following:
   (i) block domain names, URLs and IP addresses that provide access to the online location and that are specified in the injunction;
   (ii) block domain names, URLs and IP addresses that the carriage service provider and TEQSA agree, in writing, have started to provide access to the online location after the injunction is made; and

(b) require the online search engine provider to take reasonable steps to do either or both of the following:
   (i) not provide search results that include domain names, URLs and IP addresses that provide access to the online location and that are specified in the injunction;
   (ii) not provide search results that include domain names, URLs and IP addresses that the online search engine provider and TEQSA agree, in writing, have started to provide access to the online location after the injunction is made.
Parties

(5) The parties to an action under subsection (1) are:

(a) TEQSA; and

(b) the carriage service provider; and

(c) if the application under subsection (1) also sought for the injunction to apply against an online search engine provider—the online search engine provider; and

(d) the person who operates the online location if, but only if, that person makes an application to be joined as a party to the proceedings.

Service

(6) TEQSA must notify:

(a) the carriage service provider; and

(b) if the application under subsection (1) also sought for the injunction to apply against an online search engine provider—the online search engine provider; and

(c) the person who operates the online location;

of the making of an application under subsection (1), but the Court may dispense, on such terms as it sees fit, with the notice required to be sent under paragraph (c) if the Court is satisfied that TEQSA is unable, despite reasonable efforts, to determine the identity or address of the person who operates the online location, or to send notices to that person.

Matters to be taken into account

(7) In determining whether to grant the injunction, the Court may take the following matters into account:

(a) whether disabling access to the online location is a proportionate response in the circumstances;

(b) if the application under subsection (1) also sought for the injunction to apply against an online search engine provider—whether not providing search results that refer users to the online location is a proportionate response in the circumstances;
(c) the impact on any person, or class of persons, likely to be affected by the grant of the injunction;
(d) whether it is in the public interest to disable access to the online location;
(e) if the application under subsection (1) also sought for the injunction to apply against an online search engine provider—whether it is in the public interest not to provide search results that refer users to the online location;
(f) whether TEQSA complied with subsection (6);
(g) any other remedies available under this Act;
(h) any other matter prescribed by the regulations;
(i) any other relevant matter.

Rescinding and varying injunctions

(8) The Court may:
(a) limit the duration of; or
(b) upon application, rescind or vary;
an injunction granted under this section.

(9) An application under subsection (8) may be made by:
(a) any of the persons referred to in subsection (5); or
(b) any other person prescribed by the regulations.

(10) An application under subsection (8) must not request the Court to vary the injunction so that it applies to an online search engine provider that is covered by a declaration under subsection (11).

Declarations excluding online search engine providers

(11) The Minister may, by legislative instrument, declare that:
(a) a particular online search engine provider; or
(b) an online search engine provider that is a member of a particular class; must not be specified in an application under subsection (1) or (8).
Costs

(12) A carriage service provider or, if applicable, an online search engine provider is not liable for any costs in relation to the proceedings unless the provider enters an appearance and takes part in the proceedings.

26 Section 128

After “under section 127”, insert “or 127A”.

27 Paragraphs 128(a) and (b)

Omit “regulated entity”, substitute “person”.

28 Subsection 130(1)

Omit “regulated entity”, substitute “person”.

29 Paragraphs 130(1)(a), (b) and (c)

Omit “the entity”, substitute “the person”.

30 Subsection 130(2)

Omit “regulated entity”, substitute “person”.

31 Paragraphs 130(2)(a), (b) and (c)

Omit “the entity”, substitute “the person”.

32 After paragraph 134(1)(d)

Insert:

(da) to protect and enhance academic integrity by:

(i) gathering, providing and sharing information, and providing education, about matters relating to academic cheating services;

(ii) conducting research relating to academic cheating services; and

(iii) taking action to prevent access to online sources of academic cheating services;
33 Division 2 of Part 10 (heading)
   Repeal the heading, substitute:

   Division 2—Information management—regulated entities

34 At the end of Division 2 of Part 10
   Add:

   Division 3—Information management—academic cheating services

197A Information or documents obtained under subsection 63(1A)
   TEQSA may disclose any information or documents obtained under subsection 63(1A) for the purpose of performing its functions.
